

Revision questions for NGC1 element 2

Question 1 What is the official name of what we commonly call 'the safety policy'?

Question 2 What are the three key elements of a safety policy?

Question 3 Complete the following bullet points which are intended to summarise an organisation's responsibilities:

- accept responsibility for the health and safety of by the identification, elimination and control of
- provide sufficient resources to
- monitor the application of the policy and
- provide an authoritative
- demonstrate a clear commitment to communicate

Question 4 (Looking forward to elements NGC1/4 and 5) Under the two main categories of 'proactive' and 'reactive', list some factors which could be used to measure the effectiveness of the policy.

Question 5 Briefly explain the role of self-regulation in health and safety - which legislation introduced the concept of self-regulation; give an example of self-regulation in practice.

Question 6 Explain the concept of benchmarking in the context of health and safety.

Question 7 Explain the factors involved in reviewing a companies health and safety policy.

Question 8 Briefly outline the sort of information that might be stored in the company management system.

Question 9 HSG 65. In NGC1/2 we said that you must learn the outline structure of this HSE publication; complete the structure of this figure (if you happen to remember the HSG 65 chapter numbers as well, even better):

