

NEBOSH Certificate NGC1/2 Policy

Revision questions

Q1 What is the official name of what we commonly call 'the safety policy'?

Q2 What are the three key elements of a safety policy?

Q3 Complete the following bullet points which are intended to summarise an organisation's responsibilities:

- accept responsibility for the health and safety of by the identification, elimination and control of
- provide sufficient resources to
- monitor the application of the policy and
- provide an authoritative
- demonstrate a clear commitment to communicate

Q4 (Looking forward to units NGC1/7 and 8.) Under the two main categories of 'proactive' and 'reactive', list some factors which could be used to measure the effectiveness of the policy.

Q5 Briefly explain the role of self-regulation in health and safety - which legislation introduced the concept of self-regulation; give an example of self-regulation in practice.

Q6 Explain the concept of benchmarking in the context of health and safety.

Q7 Explain the factors involved in reviewing a companies health and safety policy.

Q8 Briefly outline the sort of information that might be stored in the company management system.

Q9 HSG65. In NGC1/2 we said that you must learn the outline structure of this HSE publication; complete the structure of this figure (if you happen to remember the HSG65 chapter numbers as well, even better):

